

Credit Suisse – Madison Avenue, NY

Architect: Gensler

Client: Credit Suisse

Completion: 2016

Credit Suisse, the global financial services company whose headquarters are located at 11 Madison Avenue, New York, underwent a complete restack and had selected our office to provide acoustical consulting. Credit Suisse leases 1.3 million sq. ft. of office space in the historic art deco building.

Our services commenced with testing open and closed plan office articulation index and speech privacy where business groups are in close proximity. Our benchmarking was used to help Credit Suisse configure selections on workstation and ceiling types. Our findings at the existing closed plan offices were used in conjunction with testing a series of office front mock up assemblies to compare acoustic performance and noise reduction. This enabled Credit Suisse to make an informed decision on the selection of their new office systems.

Further study of conference rooms, dining, and amenity spaces were used to assist the design team in the details required to achieve desired levels of privacy as well as suitable surface finishes. Noise and vibration control for all equipment and mechanical systems was also part of our review.
